

Guidlines for Safe Trailer Towing

Failure to follow these instructions
MAY RESULT IN VEHICLE CRASH,
PROPERTY DAMAGE AND PERSONAL INJURY

Do not exceed tow vehicle manufacturers stated maximum towing capacity or stated maximum axle weight.

Before towing any trailer for the first time confirm adequate clearance between trailer and both cab of tow vehicle and trailer and rear of tow vehicle. Compensate for trailer swing during turning.

Do not tow with worn parts. Before towing check hitch ball, hitch coupler, safety chains and other connections.

Be certain the coupler latching pin is functioning properly. Coupler must be within manufacturers specifications. Socket should be clean, smooth and lightly lubricated.

Before towing be certain hitch coupler is fully seated and securely latched on hitch ball.

Always attach safety chains. Securely connect safety chains to the spring loaded U-bolt bracket with only enough slack to allow full turning. Excess slack may prevent safety chains from maintaining control in the event hitch connections fail.

Verify proper operation of trailer lights, turn signals, electric brakes and break-away connections each time you tow.

Maintain tire inflation at tow vehicle and trailer manufacturer's recommendations.

Proper trailer loading is critical for safe towing. Always follow trailer manufacturers recommendations.

Periodically inspect and re-torque all hitch fasteners.

DO NOT ALLOW PEOPLE IN TRAILER WHILE TOWING.
